Busy Program Awaits Queen In Canada

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (AP) The royal yacht Britannia cruised slowly toward Prince Edward Island's capital today, bringing Queen Elizabeth II for a crowded program of public appearances at the start of her controversial Canadian tour.

The Britannia was to dock in Charlottetown harbor shortly before noon after a trip from Summerside, 45 miles away. The queen arrived by jet plane Monday at the Summerside Royal Canadian Air Force base for her fourth visit to Canada.

She was welcomed by Governor-General Georges Vanier and Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson, but guests at the brief air base ceremonies were by invitation only and consisted mainly of local dignitaries, air force personnel and their families.

Although the queen was probably not aware of it, the base was sealed off by tight security checks. All newsmen entering the gates had to show credentials and were stopped by security officers inside. Armed air force personnel watched from the roof of the huge hangar where the queen was greeted. Police cars cruised adjoining roads.

Crowds lined the streets of Summerside as the queen and her husband, Prince Philip, drove in a closed limousine to board the Britainnia. At the dock mounted police guards in khaki coveralls patrolled in the background, with a police dog on a tight chain.

Authorities are primarily concerned over the Quebec segment of the queen's visit, which will follow her stay in this city of 20,000. But they were taking no chances even in this friendly maritime province.

Extra measures are being taken in Quebec because of threats of violence from French-speaking advocates of independence for Quebec.

The queen's program included a 19 - minute drive through downtown Charlottetown. For security reasons the authorities ruled out an open car.

Pipeline Of Natural Gas Into Peninsula Approved

Steel Industry Needs Men In Chicago Area

CHICAGO (AP) — The steel industry, headed for its biggest year in history, is running out of workers in the Chicago-Gary, Ind., area, largest steel producing center in the world.

Two of the industry's giants, U.S. Steel and Inland Steel, reported today they are carrying recruiting drives for their busy Chicago area plants into the far corners of the Midwest and Pennsylvania in an effort to beef up overworked crews.

The problem, say industry spokesmen, is the lack of skilled labor in Chicago, traditionally a fertile source for the steel plants.

Output Sets Record

"We've advertised here and tried to work with employment services," said a Chicago spokesman for U.S. Steel, "but we are just unable to meet our requirements locally. We're having trouble getting skilled and even semiskilled workers."

The spokesman said U.S. Steel will conduct job interviews this week in many industrial areas of Pennsylvania, including Altoona, Johnston and Uniontown.

The Chicago area produces nearly 23 per cent of the nation's steel and industry officials estimate the nation will produce a record 125 million tons of ingot in 1964. Last month's production of 10.6 million tons of ingot set a new industry record for September.

"There's a big push on," said Phil Morris, personnel director for Inland Steel's vast Calumet Works. "When you get large steel companies looking for the same thing (skilled labor), there aren't enough top-flight people to go around."

Nine Plants In Area

In Chicago, Morris said "we're looking for people with high school educations or at least the equivalent. You just can't find them there.

"You hire a man as a laborer but you want him to move up," Morris said. "The days of the pick and shovel are over in the steel mills."

As of this week, Morris said, there were 486 jobs open among his work force of 21,200. "And if I filled those I'd have to ask for some more."

Morris said Inland is recruiting workers in Duluth, Minn.; Green Bay, Wis.; South Bend, Ind., Evansville and Terre Haute, Ind., and Escanaba, Mich., among other cities.

Final OK Now Contingent On Action Of FPC

LANSING (AP) — Ending a year-long fight to supply natural gas to the Upper Peninsula, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. today has approval to construct a pipeline to the Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Iron River area.

The Michigan Public Service Commission appproved the gas firm's plan Monday. Final approval is contingent on the Federal Power Commmission.

A compromise leading toward the decision was worked out at hearings last month when Michigan Consolidated agreed to split the UP market with other utilities, including Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, Neb.

Northern Natural has proposed a gas pipeline farther north in the peninsula but did not put in a direct case at the series of hearings.

Net Cost $14,126,830

The commission ruled that Upper Peninsula Fuels Research Inc., a fuel oil and coal organization, did not successfully prove its contention that Consolidated's projections of gas use were errroneous.

Commission chairman Peter Spivak said the order "'does not represent a choice between projects: it represents approval of the only project the commmission had before it.'"

"This demonstration of interest and faith in the Upper Peninsula is great news for all the people of the state,'''' he said.

Consolidated plans to obtain its gas from Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. at a point near Menominee, then pipe it to sales outlets.

A pipeline starting from near Menominee would extend to near Powers, then split with lines runnning to Escanaba and Gladstone, and to Norway, Iron Mountain, Crystal Fallls and Iron River.

Net cost of the lines is an estimated $14,126,830.

Escanaba Deal Awaited

Consolidated estimates its rate of profit in five years willl range from 6.48 per cent to 6.98 per cent, depending on whether it obtains, provides gas to or has no dealings with the municipal gas system owned by the City of Escanaba.

Projected annnual base gas rate is $12,065,000.

The fuel oil group maintained the estimates by consolidated were excessive but the commission ruled they were reasonable.

The fuel oil interests said introduction of gas would hurt them economicallly.

Commmission appproval is contingent upon Federal Power Commission approval of Michigan Consolidated and Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line's plans for gas delivery near Menominee, and upon observation of normal safety standards.

Northern Natural Gas, whose proposed pipeline would run from Minnnesota to Marquette, is expected to be a party to the FPC hearing on the Menominee gas delivery question.

The chief imponderable in the gas pipe line project of Mich Con is the City of Escanaba.

Escanaba owns its own gas utility and has three possible options in connection with the Mich Con pipe line project. It can:

1. Keep its gas utility and continue to sell propane gas as at present.

2. It can possibly buy gas at wholesale of Mich Con and sell it to its city customers.

3. It can, as Mich Con desires, sell its gas utility and nonprofitable central heating system to Mich Con, which has indicated it would largely junk the city gas distribution system as not efficient and construct one of its own. Mich Con says that a city-owned gas utility would never reach the customer potential which Mich Con would set itself in Escanaba.

City Not Cruicial

Mich Con has indicated in discussions with the city that while Escanaba is the largest single potential municipal market on the projected gas line, the project is not contingent upon Escanaba's willingness to sell its gas utility to Mich Con. The utility is one of only a

Local Demands Delay End Of Strike At GM

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Union strived anew today to settle 117 remaining local level working agreements and end a strike against the automaker.

The local agreements suppplement the national contract on which the UAW and GM agreed Monday.

Hope was expressed on both sides everything could be wrapped up in a week, but neither predicted it would be.

Final settlement would send back to their jobs 280,000 of General Motors' 350,000 UAW-represented workers who were called out on strike 12 days ago to suppport the union's national-level demands. They remain out to back up at-the-plant union goals.

Cautioned By President

President Lyndon B. Johnson said in Washington Monday night he was pleased that GM and the UAW have settled nationally and also was pleased with previous annnouncements by the Big Three auto makers—GM, Ford and Chrysler—they planned generally to maintain 1964 prices for 1965 models.

At the same time the President cautioned others against following what he called a generous settlement by an industry which has been racking up record profits for the last year and a half.

GM made $1.1 billion in this year's first half, compared with $1.59 billion in all of 1963—the largest profit ever made by a manufacturing corporation. Ford and Chrysler also set records last year and topppped first half performances with $3.24 million and $1.14 million, respectively, in 1964's first six months.

Auto Profits High

Chrysler and Ford reached virtual parallel agreements with the UAW ahead of General Motors, and UAW President Walter P. Reuther estimated they were worth 54 cents hourly over their three-year lives.

President Johnson said the new auto contracts must be considered in the context of the industry's very high profits, lower costs and taxes, and a very high productivity combined with price maintenance.

"Both labor and management," Johnson said, "realized the unique nature of the auto settlement. I expect that other industries with profits below the high level in autos willl not use the auto settlement as a pattern."

Others have in the past, and the UAW is attempting to apply the auto pattern now to the agriculture implement industry.

Court Denies Spy Case Delay

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Neither a presidential campaign nor a government-dropped spy case is sufficient reason to further postpone the trial here of two men accused of espionage, a U.S. District Court judge has ruled.

The trial of John W. Butenko, 39, Orange, an American engineer, and Igor A. Ivanov, 34, a Russian chauffeur, now is scheduled to begin in U.S. District Court Friday.

The two are accused of conspiring to transmit vital defense information to the Soviet Union. They were arrested last Oct. 29 in an Englewood train station. A brief case containing Air Force documents was seized by FBI agents at the time of the arrests.

A last-minute motion for a two - month adjournment was made by defense lawyers Monday just before the scheduled start of the trial.

U.S. District Court Judge Anthony T. Augelli dismissed the motion but granted the defense an additional three days.

Meeting Called In White Pine Labor Dispute

CHICAGO (AP) — A meeting was scheduled here today between company and union officials in an attempt to resolve differences between the White Pine (Mich.) Copper Co. and the United Steel Workers union.

The meeting had been called by Federal Mediator James Despins who sat in on most of the sessions which were held in White Pine.

Unsettled differences prompted a strike at the mine, mill and smelter of the concern over a month ago.

Wildcat Strike Workers Fired

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Ford Motor Co. spokesman said Monday night that 18 United Auto Workers members have been fired and 12 more suspended for allegedly taking part in a wildcat strike at thee company plants in Brook Park last week.

The workers belong to Local 1250. The strike was touched off when a committeeman, John Lovejoy, was suspended on charges of disobedience. The walkout was ended by a court injunction last Tuesday, and the company fired Lovejoy Monday.

The company said Lovejoy was suspended Sept. 25 on the ground he left his normal jusisdiction to hear a union member's grievance in the foundry. That is against company rules, a spokesman said.

The 18 who were fired a Ford spokesman said, violated "a specific no-strike pledge contained in Ford's national agreement with the UAW."

Finnish Leftists Gain In Election

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Socialists and Commmunists made sweeping gains in Finland's municipal elections, figures showed today.

Riding a crest of popularity among younger voters and buoyed by a general disenchantment with rising prices and taxes, the leftists in the voting Sunday and Monday picked up at least 322 town council seats.

Columbia U. Accepts Bust Of Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was on hand when Columbia University accepted a bronze bust of him, by Antonio Salemme, donated by a group of alumni.

Eisenhower, a former president of the university, remarked at the acceptance ceremony Monday that his years at Columbia were "among the most enjoyable, instructive and fruitful of my entire life."

Many Southern Voters Dislike Both Nominees

By RELMAN MORIN

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The South is a political jigsaw puzzle at this stage of the presidential campaign, a fascinating tangle of party-bolting, personalities, and hotly colored opinions about issues.

And one fact is crystal clear —many Southerners are less than lukewarm about both President Johnson and Sen. Barrry Goldwater.

"Poor choice." "Lesser of two evils." "Don't feel like voting for either one." "Going fishing Election Day."

On a recent tour of the South, this corrrespondent heard these sentiments expressed more frequently than any other single single view of the campaign. Opinion-samplings by Associated Press bureaus in all the Southern states likewise reported a lack of enthusiasm for the two major party candidates.

"Vote No For President"

"I'm going to vote for Johnson but I wouldn't if there were anyone besides Goldwater on the Republican ticket," said Julie Tnne Waxman, Augusta, Ga., a student nurse.

Jackie Carter, Hutchins, Tex., used a bowling term to express his attitude, "It looks like a 7-10 (a difficult position) any way you go. I slightly prefer Goldwater."

An airport bus driver in Amarilllo, Tex., said he has heard of a sticker saying "Vote 'no' for president." He said, "That's for me." A Chatttanooga housewife, whose husband's car bears a Goldwater sticker, said, "I don't want a sticker that says "I'm for Johnson,' if I could just get one that says, 'I'm not for Goldwater.' "

Not every Southerner, to be sure, is preparing to cast an "against" vote. Many said the issues as well as the two men have attracted them to the banner of Johnson or Goldwater.

Louisiana Loss In Disaster May Hit 100 Million

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Louisiana, hit by its worst hurricane in seven years, stepped up efforts to return to normal today even while flood threats mounted.

Gov. John McKeithen flew on an inspection tour of several devastated areas Monday and described what he saw as "a terrible disaster."

Hurricane Hilda moved up through the Gulf of Mexico and struck Louisiana's coast Saturday. Hilda and the vicious tornadoes she set off killed 36 persons.

Damages may run to $100 million.

Hilda's might wore out over Louisiana. After colliding with cold front over Georgia and the Carolinas, it pushed out into the Atlantic Ocean.

The storm's damage in Georgia was confined mainly to flash floods from excessive rains in the Columbus area on the western border and in the Clayton area in the extreme northeast bordering the Carolinas. One Georgian drowned and another man was killed by a landslide.

Repair crews fanned out over Louisiana to fix electric, gas sewage, water and communication lines knocked out by the storm. Insurance companies beefed up their claims offices. Farmers began salvaging what was left of their crops. Stricken residents returned to their homes — or what was left of them — to clean up debris.

While all this was going on, hundreds were forced to evacuate their homes in the Baton Rouge area because of rising waters in the Amite and Comite river basins. Officials expected them to crest three to six feet above flood stage today.

President Johnson earmarked $1 million in emergency funds for hurricane disaster relief in Louisiana.

The Small Business Administration designated all sections of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama hit by the winds and floods as disaster area.

Task Proposed For Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater steers his campaign for the White House into Pennsylvania today, having declared that if he wins he will ask former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to undertake a study mission to South Viet Nam.

The Republican presidential nominee said he wants Eisenhower to head a team of experts to conduct an on-the-scene investigation of the situation in the embattled Southeast Asian country and seek a solution.

Goldwater unveiled the proposal Monday night in a move reminiscent of Eisenhower's own dramatic promise in the waning days of the 1952 campaign to go to war-torn Korea if elected president.

Goldwater's press secretary, Paul F. Wagner, who released the statement, said Eisenhower was not advised of it in advance. But Wagner said Eisenhower and Goldwater have discussed in general terms the role Eisenhower might play in efforts to find a solution to the situation in South Viet Nam.

Russians Launch Earth Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — Another unmanned Soviet earth satellite, Cosmos 47, has been launched, Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported today.

The Cosmos satellites are instrumented, unmanned vehicles employed in a Soviet space exploration program begun in March 1962. Western observers believe the series is part of the research for a manned flight to the moon.

'Gun Gap' Seen By Top Marine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top Marine said today there is "a deficiency" of naval gunfire to suppport over-the-beach landings and ""remedial action is essential."

Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., Marine Corps commandant, discussed what he called a "gun gap" with The Associated Press following indications that the Navy is studying how to beef up its shore bombardment capability.

Not much has been said publicly, but both the Marines and the Navy amphibious forces have been concerned for some time that that capability has been reduced by the switch from conventional guns to missiles in the armaments of many warships since World War II and Korea.

In a little-noticed passage of a recent speech, Greene said "the days of the 16-inch guns of the battleships are gone."

"Missiles have largely replaced the guns of the cruisers and destroyers," he said.

"Progress is being made in this area but it is slow, and we are anxious to have what could some day be a serious deficiency corrected before it becomes a serious reality."

Satellite Will Relay Talks By Johnson, Rusk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and two Japanese officials willl speak Wednesday on the inaugural telecast from Tokyo to the United States via the Syncom satelllite.

The link willl be used to carrry the Olympic Games, which start in Tokyo Friday morning.

The transmission willl take place between 9:15 and 9:45 a.m. EST and willl include talks previously recorded by Johnson and Rusk, plus live speeches by Japanese Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina and Communications Minister Zitsuzo Tokuyasu.

Betting Favors Johnson, 7-1

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said today that exactly four weeks before Election Day Nov. 3, President Johnson is the most overwhelming choice to win the presidency since Thomas E. Dewey at the same stage of the 1948 campaign.

"Therein may lie a warning to the Democrats," the story said, adding:

"Yet, even Mr. Dewey never enjoyed the kind of lead that every reliable indicator now gives Mr. Johnson — and Mr. Dewey's upset by Harry S. Truman was a tame event compared with the shock that would hit political analysts, poll-takers and party officials if Sen. Barry Goldwater were to manage a victory this year."

The Times said: "Even the established gambling odds support the conclusions of the study. The latest established national betting line is 7 to 1 on Mr. Johnson."

The Times said that many analysts, despite the polls and the atmosphere of Democratic victory, are reluctant to predict flatly a landslide for Johnson; many believe that in the remaining weeks of the campaign Goldwater may gain ground.

The story reported the situation that emerges from reports of Times corrrespondents, from a study of voter polls and from other data concerning 49 states and the District of Columbia. It said no extensive reports from Alaska were available.

Kiwanians Hear Of City Plans

Current and future public works projects in Escanaba's city improvement program were outlined for the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday by George Harvey, city manager, and Milton Embs, assistant manager.

One of the major jobs now under way is the extension of the storm drain system and the installation of larger drains to alleviate flooding in various areas during heavy rains. This program is scheduled to be continued next year, with the elimination of Butcher Creek near the golf club as one of the items.

Good progress was made in street paving this year, Harvey said, and very few sections of street in the city remain to be paved. A section of Lake Shore Drive, to connect with M 35 at Sylvan Point, is one of the bigger future projects, and may be spread out over more than one year.

Resurfacing, widening and alley paving are other street projects on the list, and there are several petitions for alley paving. In the future, the plan calls for reconstruction of Ludington St., at an estimated cost of $700,000. Public works projects tre scheduled at the municipal docks, yacht harbor, and the airport, where terminal facilities must be moved farther south to comply with regulations.

In the city utilities department, a program has been set up tentatively for the change-over to natural gas, although the time when the gas supply will be available to Escanaba is still unknown.

Future building projects being considered are a new public library on a new site, a community recreation building, additions to the city administrative offices, and buildings at Royce park and the ski hill area.

Maps and tables were projected on a screen to illustrate the scope of the improvement schedule. The program Monday was arranged by Don Crawford.

School Hot Lunch Aids Health And Education

America's young people are growing taller and stronger and the life span is increasing, thanks to better nutrition and improved medical care.

The school lunch program, shared by more than 16 million youngsters last year, is one of the factors in the advancement of the national health. For it has nutritional and educational benefits that continue through a lifetime.

This is National School Lunch Week, and its observance is designed to promote public understanding and awareness of the significance of the program to the child, to the home, the farm, industry, and the nation.

About 68,500 schools throughout the nation participate in the national school lunch program; and although the federal government plays a role in the financing of these operations, the administration of school food services remains under the control of local school boards and communities.

Children Pay Part

Hagle Quarnstrom, superintendent of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, who is responsible for supervising the school lunch program as part of his duties, reports that all of the school districts in Delta sponsor a lunch program and that it is "big business" indeed.

A total of 3,652 children in 11 Delta school districts participate in the lunch program, ranging in number from 50 in Fairbanks Townships Schools, 65 at Nahma, 300 in Gladstone city and 475 at Bark River-Harris, to the Escanaba Area's 1,365 in eight schools.

Quarnstrom pointed out that in the 1963-64 school year payments from the children for lunches totaled $126,299; and federal reimbursement which includes special milk was $49,765. The number of lunches served totaled 569,876.

Meet The Standards

"The charge per meal varies according to the type of meal and the costs of the lunch program in each of the various districts," said the county school superintendent. "In each of the school districts, it is the goal of the school board to keep the program self-supporting, and the charge per meal reflects the need to make ends meet."

Nutritional standards for school lunches are established and school lunch cooks see that these goals are met. For example, a Type A meal in the school must have at least 2 ounces of protein, three-quarters cup of fruit and vegetable, plus bread, butter and milk. Checks are made from time to time by Quarnstrom to see that this standard is being met.

Providing lunch like this every school day to the more than 16 million youngsters in the program calls for tremendous quantities of food. Federal donations of abundant agricultural products and cash assistance which amounts to more than 23 per cent of the total program cost are received by local lunch programs.

Use Surplus Foods

Two worthwhile purposes are accomplished by the school lunch program: It makes effective use of the nation's abundant supplies of food, providing good markets for farmers, food industries and local business; and it contributes greatly to the health and well-being of the children.

Because of the surplus foods distributed by the Federal government, children are beginning to appreciate delicacies they had never before tasted. Michigan cherries in the deep south, cornbread in the northwest, and Georgia peaches in Minnesota make for variety and new taste treats.

School lunches have their own regional recipe favorites, nonetheless. Ted Breitenbach, hot lunch supervisor for the Escanaba Area Public Schools, points out that in Utica Consolidated Schools in Mississippi the boys and girls have on their lunch menu foods that would perhaps arouse little enthusiam in Northern Michigan.

Turnip greens, candied yams, hominy, field peas, and rice with this and rice with that are on the school menus in the south — together with bread, milk, fish, meat and cheese of course. But there is not one white or "Irish" potato mentioned. Rice serves as the substitute — and they grow a lot of rice in Mississippi.

Potatoes are on the school lunch menu in many guises in Delta County: Potatoes baked, fried, whipped, and casseroled. Not only that, but there is also potato in another of the children's favorites — the pasty. This "portable" meal in a pastry crust includes meat and potatoes and is popular among the Welsh miners, who brought to America the recipe for their lunch pail staple.

The school food service program places major emphasis on nutrition education. Food service program places major emphasis on nutrition education. Food service personnel and educators believe that training in nutrition and proper food habits will have a major impact on the development of the child and health in later life.

It was this need for improved basic diet and nutrition which brought about the passage of the National School Lunch Act in 1946. Congress termed the Act in part necessary "to the national security," which was in reference to Selective Service finding in World War II that 155,000 potential servicemen were unfit for military service because of physical deficiencies traced to malnutrition.

Forest Thinning Demonstration Set

The woodlot thinning demonstration scheduled Sept. 16 was postponed because of heavy rains. It will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the Goodman Woodlot, a mile north and east of Trenary off the Trenary-Traunik Road. Roy Skog U.P. District Extension forester, will demonstrate methods for thinning and release work. E. C. Hall, Conservation Dept. forester, will cover the A.S.C.S. approved conservation practices cost-sharing program. Don Pellegrini, Alger Soil Conservation District, will discuss technical assistance through the Soil Conservation Service.

Voters Reject School Millage

Official canvass of the Flat Rock school election confirmed Tuesday the decisive defeat of two millage proposals designed to provide funds for district expansion of services.

Proposal one — requesting voter authorization to exceed the legal maximum of 4 mills for operating expense for a five-year period from 1965-69 —was defeated 173-98.

Proposal two—asking a 3 mill assessment over 26 years to provide $120,000 for a four-room addition to the Flat Rock school—was beaten 164-106.

Two ballots on each proposal were ruled invalid.

Flat Rock school Superintendent Leo Brunelle said that a decision on what to do about expanding the school would be put to the school board, emphasizing that the need for additional classroom facilities was urgent.

Enrollment at Flat Rock is 453, up 21 from last year. The school has 12 classrooms, five less than needed, according to Brunelle.

Beef Calf Sale Numbers Drop

The Bay de Noc Beef Breeders Association 8th annual auction of beef calves to owners of feeder lots to the south started at noon today at the Escanaba Livestock Auction yards here.

The young stock, nearly all Herefords, was delivered to the auction yard starting last Friday and the Sunday evening count showed about 1,000 animals offered for sale, a sharp drop from the 1,500 disposed of here in the 1963 sale.

An organized opposition to the sale reported in some quarters to be related to financing of the beef enterprises which supply calves and to be directed against the Extension leadership in the organization of this market for Upper Peninsula livestock appears to have been a factor reducing the sale.

The Bruce Crossing sale of last Friday disposed of 1,200 animals in another increase in this business which has been typical of the Delta County sale for the Central U. P. until this year's sale.

Sale officers said that the slump of this year here was temporary and that "next year we'll be in good shape again."

George Wright of Sheppard, Mich., is the auctioneer for today's sale and William Jaeger of Watson, president of the Bay de Noc Beef Breeders Assn., said that the feed lot operators who buy animals at sale will be guests of the Association at a dinner tonight at the Arbour's Restaurant on N. 23rd St.

GAYLORD (AP) — Prices were 10 to 15 per cent below last year as 988 yearling beef animals were purchased at auction for Southern Michigan feedlots last week, a Michigan State University specialist says.

Wilton Finley, MSU animal husbandry extension specialist, says the animals sold for a total of $122,632 as the more than 200 buyers showed reluctance to buy.

They probably were thinking of losses taken on cattle feeding operations during the past year, Finley said.

Yearling steers averaged 652 pounds and sold for an average of $20.33 a hundredweight—$3.11 a hundredweight under 1963 prices. There were 671 sold.

The 577 yearling heifers sold brought an average $18.40 a hundredweight — $2.16 below 1963 prices.

The auction was the first of eight in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. A total of more than 12,000 cattle are expected to be offered at the auctions by farmers who raise calves for Southern Michigan feedlots.

Clevenger Favors U.P. Superhighway

SAULT STE. MARIE — The Upper Peninsula is big enough to be treated as a separate state and as such should have its own superhighway system to get its economy moving, says Ray Clevenger, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 11th District.

He advocates a new superhighway stretching 300 miles from Sault Ste. Marie to Ironwood to help minimize the long distances that handicap business and industry in the area.

Eventually the highway should continue on another 200 miles to Duluth, he said.

Clevenger said such a highway would lose much of its value unless it were connected to the rest of the Midwest by another freeway from Chicago north through Milwaukee to intersect the Sault-Ironwood road.

Get Big, Chum

Michigan Milk Producers Association, the big co-operative that handles most of the milk produced in the state as bargaining agent for its farmer-producers, has sold two Upper Peninsula milk plants.

It bought five U.P. cooperative dairy plants in 1962 in order to keep them operating and preserve their market for milk produced by U.P. farmers who were members of MMPA. The purchase was a history-making one for MMPA, which isn't primarily in the dairy manufacturing business. It entered it only in a sort of desperation in the Upper Peninsula, because no other means of preserving its U.P. members' milk markets were apparent to it.

Now it announces the sale of two of the units—Producers Dairy of Menominee and the milk bottling division of the Vacationland Dairy plant at Crystal Falls, to big Bancroft Dairy of Marquette, which has been a MMPA milk customer for years.

MMPA has also closed the Cloverleaf Co-op Cheese Co. of Daggett and milk which formerly went to that plant now goes to the Vacationland plant at Crystal Falls. These are consolidations and reshufflings which were forecast by MMPA when it took over the plants in 1962. It said it would work to preserve the U.P. milk market for Peninsula dairy farmers by consolidations and modernizations.

Bernard Doll, chairman of the U.P. Operating Advisory Committee of MMPA, said "We know that many producers don't like to see their local plant closed, but it is a move that must be made if we're to fulfill our pledge to preserve and improve our markets."

And then he said significantly "One of the big problems in the Upper Peninsula dairy industry, and of the plants we purchased in 1962, is the lack of sufficient milk to operate efficiently. Consolidation of supplies and operations at the Vacationland plant will enable us to use better equipment and better methods at lower cost."

Doll cites here a basic problem of much Upper Peninsula industry. It is size. It has been said often that the Upper Peninsula should shrink its dairy farming as a solution of its problem of surplus—the production of more milk than can be marketed in the Class 1 (drinking milk) market. But the hard facts of dairy industry economics emerge from the MMPA's U.P. plant purchases and they reveal that a small volume of production of milk — or most anything else today—creates a processing problem of smallness. Economies and efficiencies ride with big operations, where costs can be spread over large quantities of product.

When local milk production drops below a volume required for efficient processing, the only solution becomes consolidation—hauling local milk to another area for pool operations. That's what MMPA is doing. But the process should be a reminder to the U.P. that it cannot have a truly thriving dairy industry with small volume. Surplus is a problem, but so is a trickle.

That Bancroft, an Upper Peninsula dairy firm, could cooperate with MMPA in arranging preservation of this milk market for U.P. farmers is a reason for U.P. pleasure.

Reds Die Too

The recent death of figurehead East German Premier Otto Grotewohl at 70 brings to four the number of old-time, old-line Communists who have passed from this mortal scene in half again as many weeks.

The others were Maurice Thorez, 64, head of the French Communist Party; Palmiro Togliatti, 71, leader of the Italian Communists; and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, 74, first woman chairman of the U.S. Communist Party, who died in Moscow, the Mecca of all true-Red believers.

The passing of these leaders, all of whom performed yeoman service for the party in the early days of the cause, has caused hardly more than surface ripples, either in Communist or world affairs. This is significant. The acid test of any ideological movement is whether it can survive the loss of original prophets and apostles.

Communism, even in such prospering nations as France and Italy where it is not shielded from competition with enlightened Western capitalism, still exhibits a popular strength that cannot be accounted for solely on the basis of the personal magnetism of a Thorez or a Togliatti.

The real challenge of communism does not lie in the fact that it has produced certain father-figures. It lies in the fact that it produces children.

STAEBLER ANSWERED

The rectnt letter from Neil Staebler warrants comment.

Mr. Staebler states in reference to our recent school millage election that "This is another example of the excessive burden placed on the person who must pay property taxes. How can we expect these people to continue to take on ever - increasing tax assessments when no effort is made to relieve them?"

Mr. Staebler says that a Democratic governor and a Democratic legislature would increase the amount the state paid toward education He apparently hopes to convince use that the state can give back to us something that it doesn't first take away from us. Anyone who gives the matter thought must surely realize that this can't happen. To get $1 worth of service back from government requires the following payment from the taxpayer:

On the County level	$1.10
On the State level	$1.40
On the Federal level	$2.10

The difference between the amount paid in by the taxpayers and the amount returned to the taxpayers is the cost of the various government agencies and employes who handle our tax dollars in the process of returning them to us.

Mr. Staebler's inference that he would soften the burden to local taxpayers by having the state pay a bigger share of the cost of local education is not in keeping with the facts. As taxpayers we have the choice of paying $1.10 for the $1 worth of locally financed education or $2.10 for $1 worth of federally financed education.

Mr. Staebler's attempt to make political capital out of our local school problems is regrettable and I am sure it must offend the thoughful members of his party.

Ann Landers

Tactless Clods May Mean Well

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I have been married for eight years. Our little boy is almost five. We would love to have another child but I've been having a lot of trouble getting pregnant. Women who have not experienced the frustration can't imagine how depressing it is.

This afternoon I attended a church auxiliary meeting. The following remarks were made to me:

"Why are you so lazy? Why don't you have another baby?"

"My daughter is three years younger than you are and she is way ahead of you. Her fourth is due next month."

"I certainly hope you are trying, my dead. It's unfair to the child when you raise just one."

I went home from the meeting in tears and had to take a tranquilizer. Will you please tell me how to deal with people who make such comments? — CAN'T COPE

Dear Can't Cope: People who make such tasteless remarks are tactless, four-door clods. You should understand, however, that they mean no harm. This is their way of showing friendly interest. Meantime, why don't you invite all well-meaning flea brains to submit their sure-fire recipes?

Dear Ann Landers: Disguise this letter as best you can but please print it. I can't have your answer coming to my home.

My wife, Emily, was raised by a relative who has a gerat deal of money. Emily stands to inherit everything because this relative is on the outs with everybody in the family. She never leaves her home and doesn't like "strangers" so Emily must go there everyday to cook, clean the house and do the laundry. When the relative is sick (which is a good part of the time) Emily carries meals to her on a tray.

We haven't had a vacation in five years because Emily can't leave. Our two children don't get enough of their mother's time and attention and they show it. Emily looks thin and nervous and we are beginning to quarrel over trifles.

Last night I asked her to give it up and tell her relative she must hire help. She replied, "Not after all I've put up with. It can't be much longer."

I need your opinion. — PRESCRIPTION PLEASE

Dear Prescription: The whole deal smells like last week's fish.

If your wife does inherit the bundle would it be worth a damaged marriage, neglected children, poor health and the knowledge that she catered to a demanding and irrational woman for years in order to cash in? And how would you feel, knowing that you let her do it?

Dear Ann Landers: It's much too early to be thinking about Christmas but a certain somebody in this office can think of nothing else.

Our office has an annual Christmas party at which everyone gets gassed. This has been going on for as long as I have been here, which is 15 years, and the last few Christmases I've been in charge of arrangements.

The man who played Santa Clause at last year's party made a good thing of it for himself. He kissed each of the girls (and no peck either) as he handed them their gifts.

He asked me this morning if he can be Santa again this year—even offered to rent his own suit. What shall I say? — BEEDIE

Dear Beedie: A holiday kiss through three feet of beard can't do much harm — or much good either, for that matter.

Let the old boy have his annual thrill. (It sounds as if he's due for retirement soon.)

Ask The Dentist

By DR. ALFRED E. SEYLER
Michigan Dental Assn.

Q. I have all my teeth except the lower right second molar and wisdom tooth. I now wear a partial for those two teeth, but find it very uncomfortable because my tongue is irritated by the gold saddle which holds the teeth. Is there a remedy for such discomfort.

A. You are indeed fortunate to have all of your teeth with the exception of the two in your partial. I would suggest that your trouble might be eliminated by the use of a plastic material instead of the gold you now have in the "saddle" area of your partial. Even though the gold is thinner and less bulky than plastic would be, it may be too thin and therefore sharp and irritating to your tongue. It might not be necessary to have a complete new denture, for your dentist may be able to take a new impression, then drill holes in the gold to form retention for the plastic material which could be processed to the existing metal, and extended so as to be below the area your tongue would usually contact.

O. My four-year-old son recently ate half a tube of toothpaste containing fluoride. Although he seems O.K., a neighbor tells me he could be poisoned. Can you tell me anything about such a possibility?

A. A survey was made a short time ago to determine whether there is a possibility of fluoride poisoning due to the eating or swallowing of dental preparations containing fluorides.

The associate director of the Poison Control Branch of the U. S. Public Health Service reported that their records showed nine cases of swallowing a fluoride - containing toothpaste and that none of them indicated any harm done to the individual. In 25 cases reported by Poison Control Centers in the United States, 23 were "no harmful effects" noted and two were marked "results unknown." Most of these cases concerned the eating of fluoride - containing toothpaste, but five of them were concerned with other forms of fluoride, such as dentists and physicians sometimes prescribe for young children, to help them to have decay resistant teeth.

Although it is well to use care in the use of fluoride preparation, just as with any kind of drug or chemical, the claims of anti-fluoridationists regarding the extreme danger of the use of such substances need not be considered seriously. The information collected in the survey mentioned above indicates there have been no reported serious incidences of poisoning due to the accidental swallowing of dental preparyations containing fluoride.

O. My husband had a coronary a few years ago and has taken anti-coagulant drugs ever since. Now he has to have several teeth removed and there is a question in his mind about blood clotting and excessive bleeding due to his continual use of the coumarin drug.

A. My oral surgeon consultants tell me that extraction of one or two teeth at a time is safe for a patient such as your husband, without taking him off of the anti-coagulant medication prior to the extraction. The dentist who performs the extraction will probably pack the area with soluable cotton and suture the area well, and no additional control measures should be necessary.

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — As the 1964-65 college year begins to go full tilt, things are looking up for a cluster of 32 southern Negro colleges which enroll about three-fourths of all the Negro youths attending private colleges and universities in the region.

The improvements will flow from a fund drive which, with too little attendant fanfare, raised more than $30 million for these schools from 475 corporations, foundations and personal trusts.

Half the total came from the Ford Foundation. The affected schools, called the United Negro colleges, had in all previous drives managed to raise only $47 million.

Until the $30 million was raised by a special committee of businessmen, educators and others, the 32 southern Negro colleges had a combined endowment of just $89 million—considerably less than the total endowment for two small New England schools whose enrollment is less than 10 per cent of the Negro institutions' total.

The United Negro colleges have further capital needs requiring an additional $20 million. But the raising of $30 million in nine months was properly reported to President Johnson this summer as a successful effort.

Charles G. Mortimer, chairman of General Foods Corp., headed the fund drive committee The 36-member group included four from Old South states.

Of the 475 separate contributors to the fund, 28 are from the Old South. But only Houston, Atlanta, Durham, N. C., Richmond, Va., and Fredericksburg, Va., are represented.

The late President John F. Kennedy requested the fund-raising campaign for the United Negro colleges a little more than a year ago. These particular schools are the major source of educated, responsible Negro leadership in America. There is at least one in each of the 11 Old South states.

Despite some desegregation in previously all-white southern colleges—chiefly in Texas, Louisiana, Tennessee and North Carolina—only four out of every 100 Negroes attending southern colleges are in such schools.

The theory behind the drive was that it was a way to help break the "vicious circle" situation that keeps pouring under-educated Negroes into the country's economic bloodstream at a time of diminishing demand for unskilled workers and rising clamor—often unanswered—for men of high skill and professional training.

The 32 United Negro colleges were selected because, despite often incredibly antiquated and limited facilities, they have a good record of turning out qualified Negro graduates at an average annual per-student cost of less than half the national average.

Graduates of the 32 schools are now doing advanced work at Harvard, Yale, M. I. T., Johns Hopkins and other noted schools. Out of the United Negro colleges have come two congressmen, a Michigan state Supreme Court justice, commander of a U. S. destroyer escort, many others in the professions, in government and in business.

The $30 million now in hand will be used to attack drastic deficiencies in capital equipment, in reasonable hope that a much bigger crop of soundly trained Negroes may emerge to find a place in this country's steadily more complex society.

The Doctor Says:

Niacin For Pellagra Victims

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

Q—What is pellagra? Could it be caused by drinking too much wine over a period of years? What is the cure?

A—Pellagra is caused by a deficiency of niacin, which is part of the vitamin B complex. It is manifested by weakness, loss of appetite, a rash of blisters (dermatitis), emotional outbursts and sometimes diarrhea.

It is commonly seen in persons whose diet consists solely of corn bread and salt pork. Heavy drinkers of alcohol are likely to reduce their food intake and are thus particularly susceptible to this and other vitamin deficiency diseases.

The chief treatment of pellagra is the giving of niacin. When the victim improves sufficiently, he must learn to eat a well-balanced diet.

Q—Does too much grease in one's diet injure one's health? Why?

A—Too much of anything is bad. If you have hepatitis or some other liver disease, your doctor would most likely put you on a fat-poor diet. In such diseases an insufficient amount of bile is poured into the digestive tract from the liver and the bile is needed in the digestion of fats.

We should all have some fat in our diet, but some fats are digested more easily than others. Butter and vegetable oils for example, are digested more easily than the fat in beef, lamb, pork, fowl and fish. Thus foods fried in bacon grease or lard may cause stomach upsets as well as promoting hardening of the arteries.

Q—At one time I was very heavy. I lost a lot of weight by taking Preludin. Should I keep on taking this drug?

A—Since the drug is habit-forming and can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription, it should not be taken for more than 2 weeks. In addition to suppressing the appetite the drug may cause dryness of the mouth, hives, jitteriness, insomnia, dizziness and nausea. There are better ways of reducing.

Q—About 6 months ago a friend had a small lump on his left leg. Now there are several of them. The doctor calls them Kaposi's tumors. Is this a cancer and can anything be done for this condition?

A—Kaposi's disease is a slow-growing form of cancer. Irradiation with X-rays gives the best results.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Veteran C&NW Engineer Dies

Peter Newton, 83, 412 S. 14th St., widely known Chicago & North Western Railway veteran, died Monday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Francis Hospital.

He was born Dec. 8, 1880, in Champion, Mich., and was an engineer for the C. & N. W. until his retirement.

He was a member of St. Joseph's Church and Holy Name Society. He also was the oldest living member of Escanaba Council 640, Knights of Columbus, of which he was an honorary life member, and a life member of the C. & N. W. Railway Veterans Association.

He married the former Mrs. Melina Rodgers in Spalding Oct. 11, 1949.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two sisters, Mrs. Lydia McCann of Marquette and Mrs. Alma Jackson of Portland, Ore., one brother, Arthur Villeneuve, Detroit, and three stepsons and two stepdaughters, William Rodgers, Saginaw, Robert of Marquette and Francis Escanaba, Mrs. William Wagner of Minneapolis and Mrs. Gerald Stefl, Tulare, Calif.

Friends may call at the Boyce Funeral Home from 2 to 9:30 p. m. Wednesday. Daughters of Isabella of Trinity Circle will recite the rosary there at 4 p.m., and Knights of Columbus at 7:30 p.m. The parish prayer vigil will be held at 8 p.m.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Church. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

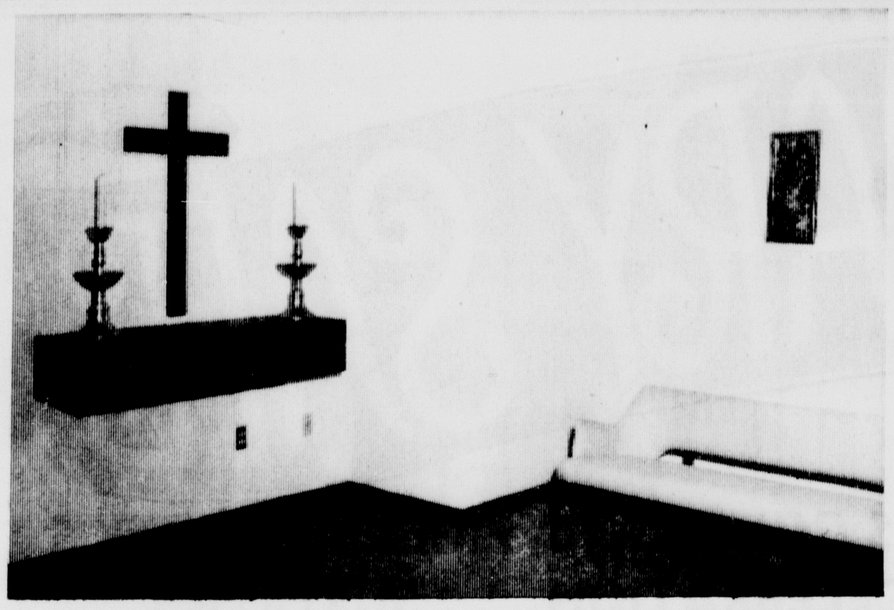

Form Three JA Firms

Seventy-five members of Junior Achievement in Escanaba have formed three companies in their progress toward organization, which will be followed by the election of officers as the next step.

The products to be produced by the firms will range from woodcraft products to a lint remover, brush and container, to coasters for glasses, said Dwayne Burak, Junior Achievement manager here. The companies are now in the process of selling stock to bring in the money necessary for the purchase of materials to start the manufacturing program.

Hescon will be engaged in woodcrafting and is sponsored by the Harnischfeger Corp.; X-Ko will manufacture lint removers (a popular item last year with another company) and the firm is sponsored by the State Bank of Escanaba, the Fair Store and Mead Corp; and Jifco, sponsored by Mead Corp., will produce a jiffy brush and container and Christmas coasters.

All of the companies applied for charters and set up by-law committees at the meeting held Monday night.

Logic Doesn't Work On Hunting Relations

By LEE SMITS

A friend asked, "Why doesn't the Conservation Department have better public relations?"

I put on what I hoped was an indulgent smile and said, "Because of Australopethicus Africanus." (Hope that's the right spelling.)

There are two subjects to which few people can apply reason, logic, common sense. One is boys-and-girls-together; one is hunting and fishing. All because of what is now believed to have been the missing link, the far-off ancestor of mankind, the weapon-bearing, carnivorous apeman who took the first step up onto the human level.

We are motivated largely by instinct in respect to all that has to do with our lives as carnivores. We have the same fierce territorial jealousy of a nesting robin, a pack of wolves, a blue racer.

Strange youths invade your backyard, your hackles rise. A pair of hunters moves into a blind close to yours on a duck marsh and there is repressed rage in your heart.

The remains of Australopethicus Africanus have been found in African caves, together with crude weapons and the bones of the prey of this ferocious man-ape.

Because of our remote ancestor, there is heated controversy over deer harvesting, fish planting and the bounty system. War can be added to this list because we are descended from a hunter, a killer, who was also a proud warrior. We have trouble reasoning about these matters just as a teenager has trouble reasoning about romantic problems.

Well do I remember an assignment, some years back, coming from friends of mine who were active in the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. There was a dedicated and influential conservationist whose ideas were not in what we now call the main stream of enlightened thought. He had invited me to shoot with him at Houghton Lake where he had a cottage. My MUCC friends urged me to go along with him, and preach the gospel.

I went. I preached. He was a quiet, gracious, hospitable gentlemen and I felt that I was making progress.

The afternoon of a butterfly day found us in a beamy boat in a floating blind looking out upon a fleet of motionless decoys. We had finished a tasty lunch. My host got an opening, broke in upon my lecture and spoke as follows:

"Well, our next governor has promised me that I'll have the say-so about conservation policies. The first thing I'm going to have done is to get the pike out of the Au Sable and release them in Houghton Lake. This lake used to be wonderful for northerns, now they're getting scarcer and scarcer. Pike don't belong in the Au Sable. We'll put 'em where they belong."

A dark, chill shadow fell across my consciousness. So this was what I had accomplished, with my patient exposition of ecology, fish and game management, sane harvesting? I imagined, for a few seconds, the netting of Au Sable Ponds and backwaters, the transportation of pike to Houghton Lake, the howls of indignation from persons using Michigan's 10,999 other lakes.

In fantasy I saw the State of Michigan abandoning its highway projects, aids to education, hospitals, law enforcement and devoting all the resources of the state treasury to the capture and transportation of northern pike, together with supplying ample winter feed for deer, which was another duty that my host believed the Conservation Department was shirking.

I drew a deep breath and said, "Seems like a fine idea," and we resumed the tranquil companionship known only to duck hunters when nothing is flying.

I filed my resignation as a conservation missionary then and there, resolving never to question anybody's fixed ideas about fish and wildlife. No use.

Now when I hear some citizen telling how the Conservation Department is striving to exterminate the northern deer herd by permitting an antlerless kill I try to keep mum. I feel something of the futility that comes over the father of a teen-age girl who cuddles the telephone for 45 minutes talking to a side-burn cipher the father knows is totally null and void.

Air Base Has Active Force Of Fire Fighters

K. I. SAWYER AFB. — "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." This old saw could well describe one of the major functions of the fire department. Its job is to provide information and material for the prevention of fires on base and to assist in combatting fires.

The fire protection operation at K. I. Sawyer, headed by John G. Myshrall, fire chief, and his deputy chief, Harold Dodd, is divided into two major branches, operations and technical services.

The base fire chief is responsible to the base fire marshal, Lt. Col. James F. Klentsman, for fire fighting performance, and management of the fire protection division.

Operation branch, supervised by M/Sgt. James Heiley, consists of the training, communications and fire suppression sections.

There are 56 men assigned to the fire suppression section, supervised by T/Sgt. William Gray and S/Sgt. Charles Peterson. These men, who man the 10 pieces of fire fighting equipment, are ready to cope with any emergency. They work on 24-hour shifts with 28 men assigned to each shift. During their tour of duty they clean trucks, perform minor maintenances, accomplish line standby duty and ramp patrol. In addition, the men in suppression section have four hours of proficiency training during each tour of duty. They have at least one structural fire drill and one pit fire drill a week.

The technical services branch, supervised by S/Sgt. Joseph F. Johnson, is responsible for the administration of the fire prevention fire extinguisher maintenance, and fixed systems sections.

Vote Register About 8,200

Registration of voters in Escanaba has ended for the Nov. 3 general election, with about 300 additional registrations picked up on Monday, the deadline date.

Don Guindon, Escanaba city clerk, said that a final tally has yet to be made but the count of registered voters now stands at 8,200.

This is about 700 more than the previous 7,547 registered as of Sept. 15.

"The response to the campaign to have everyone register has been good," the city clerk commented. "The next step will be an effort to get the people out to vote—for being registered is not enough."

At the general election there will be many partisan and non-partisan local, state and national offices (topped by the presidency) filled on Nov. 3.

How come 44,000,000 people are insured by Metropolitan Life –more than by any other company in the world?

Mostly it's because our customers like the way we treat them—and their money. Big as Metropolitan is, we've never lost the personal touch.

With 31,000 field representatives across the continent—a staff of 64,000 in all—Metropolitan always has someone nearby to give personal attention to every claim or question.

These advisers are specially trained to give Metropolitan's famous Family Security Check-Up. This is a clear-eyed analysis of your family's financial security that often turns up assets you never even knew you had.

Your Metropolitan adviser can also show you a number of ways to stretch your coverage far beyond what you thought your budget would allow.

For example, take a simple Metropolitan income rider. This can make a $10,000 policy pay off as much as $50,000 to your wife and kids. Something to look into.

Also, be sure to ask how you can start collecting from Metropolitan while you're still around. One way is an ingenious plan that lets you turn an ordinary policy into a retirement fund any time you feel like it.

These are a few of the facts and figures that explain why Metropolitan advisers are asked to give thousands of Family Security Check-Ups every day. And why one out of every five people in the U.S. and Canada is insured by Metropolitan. And also why one out of every two Metropolitan life policies bought, is bought by one of our present policyholders.

Now—here are some other reasons why more people choose Metropolitan:

• We pay policyholders and beneficiaries an average of a million dollars an hour every business day. Last year, that added up to over $2 billion. And two-thirds went to living policyholders.

• Metropolitan offers an unusually wide range of life and health plans and annuities. This permits your Metropolitan adviser to tailor a program specifically to your needs. We can insure you for any amount from $500 to a cool $5 million—or even more.

• Nearly half the 100 largest U.S. industrial corporations (plus 42,000 other companies large and small) insure their employees with Metropolitan.

• Metropolitan has more life insurance in force than any other company—more than $107 billion.

• A pioneer in health education, Metropolitan has given away 1.8 billion pieces of health and safety literature.

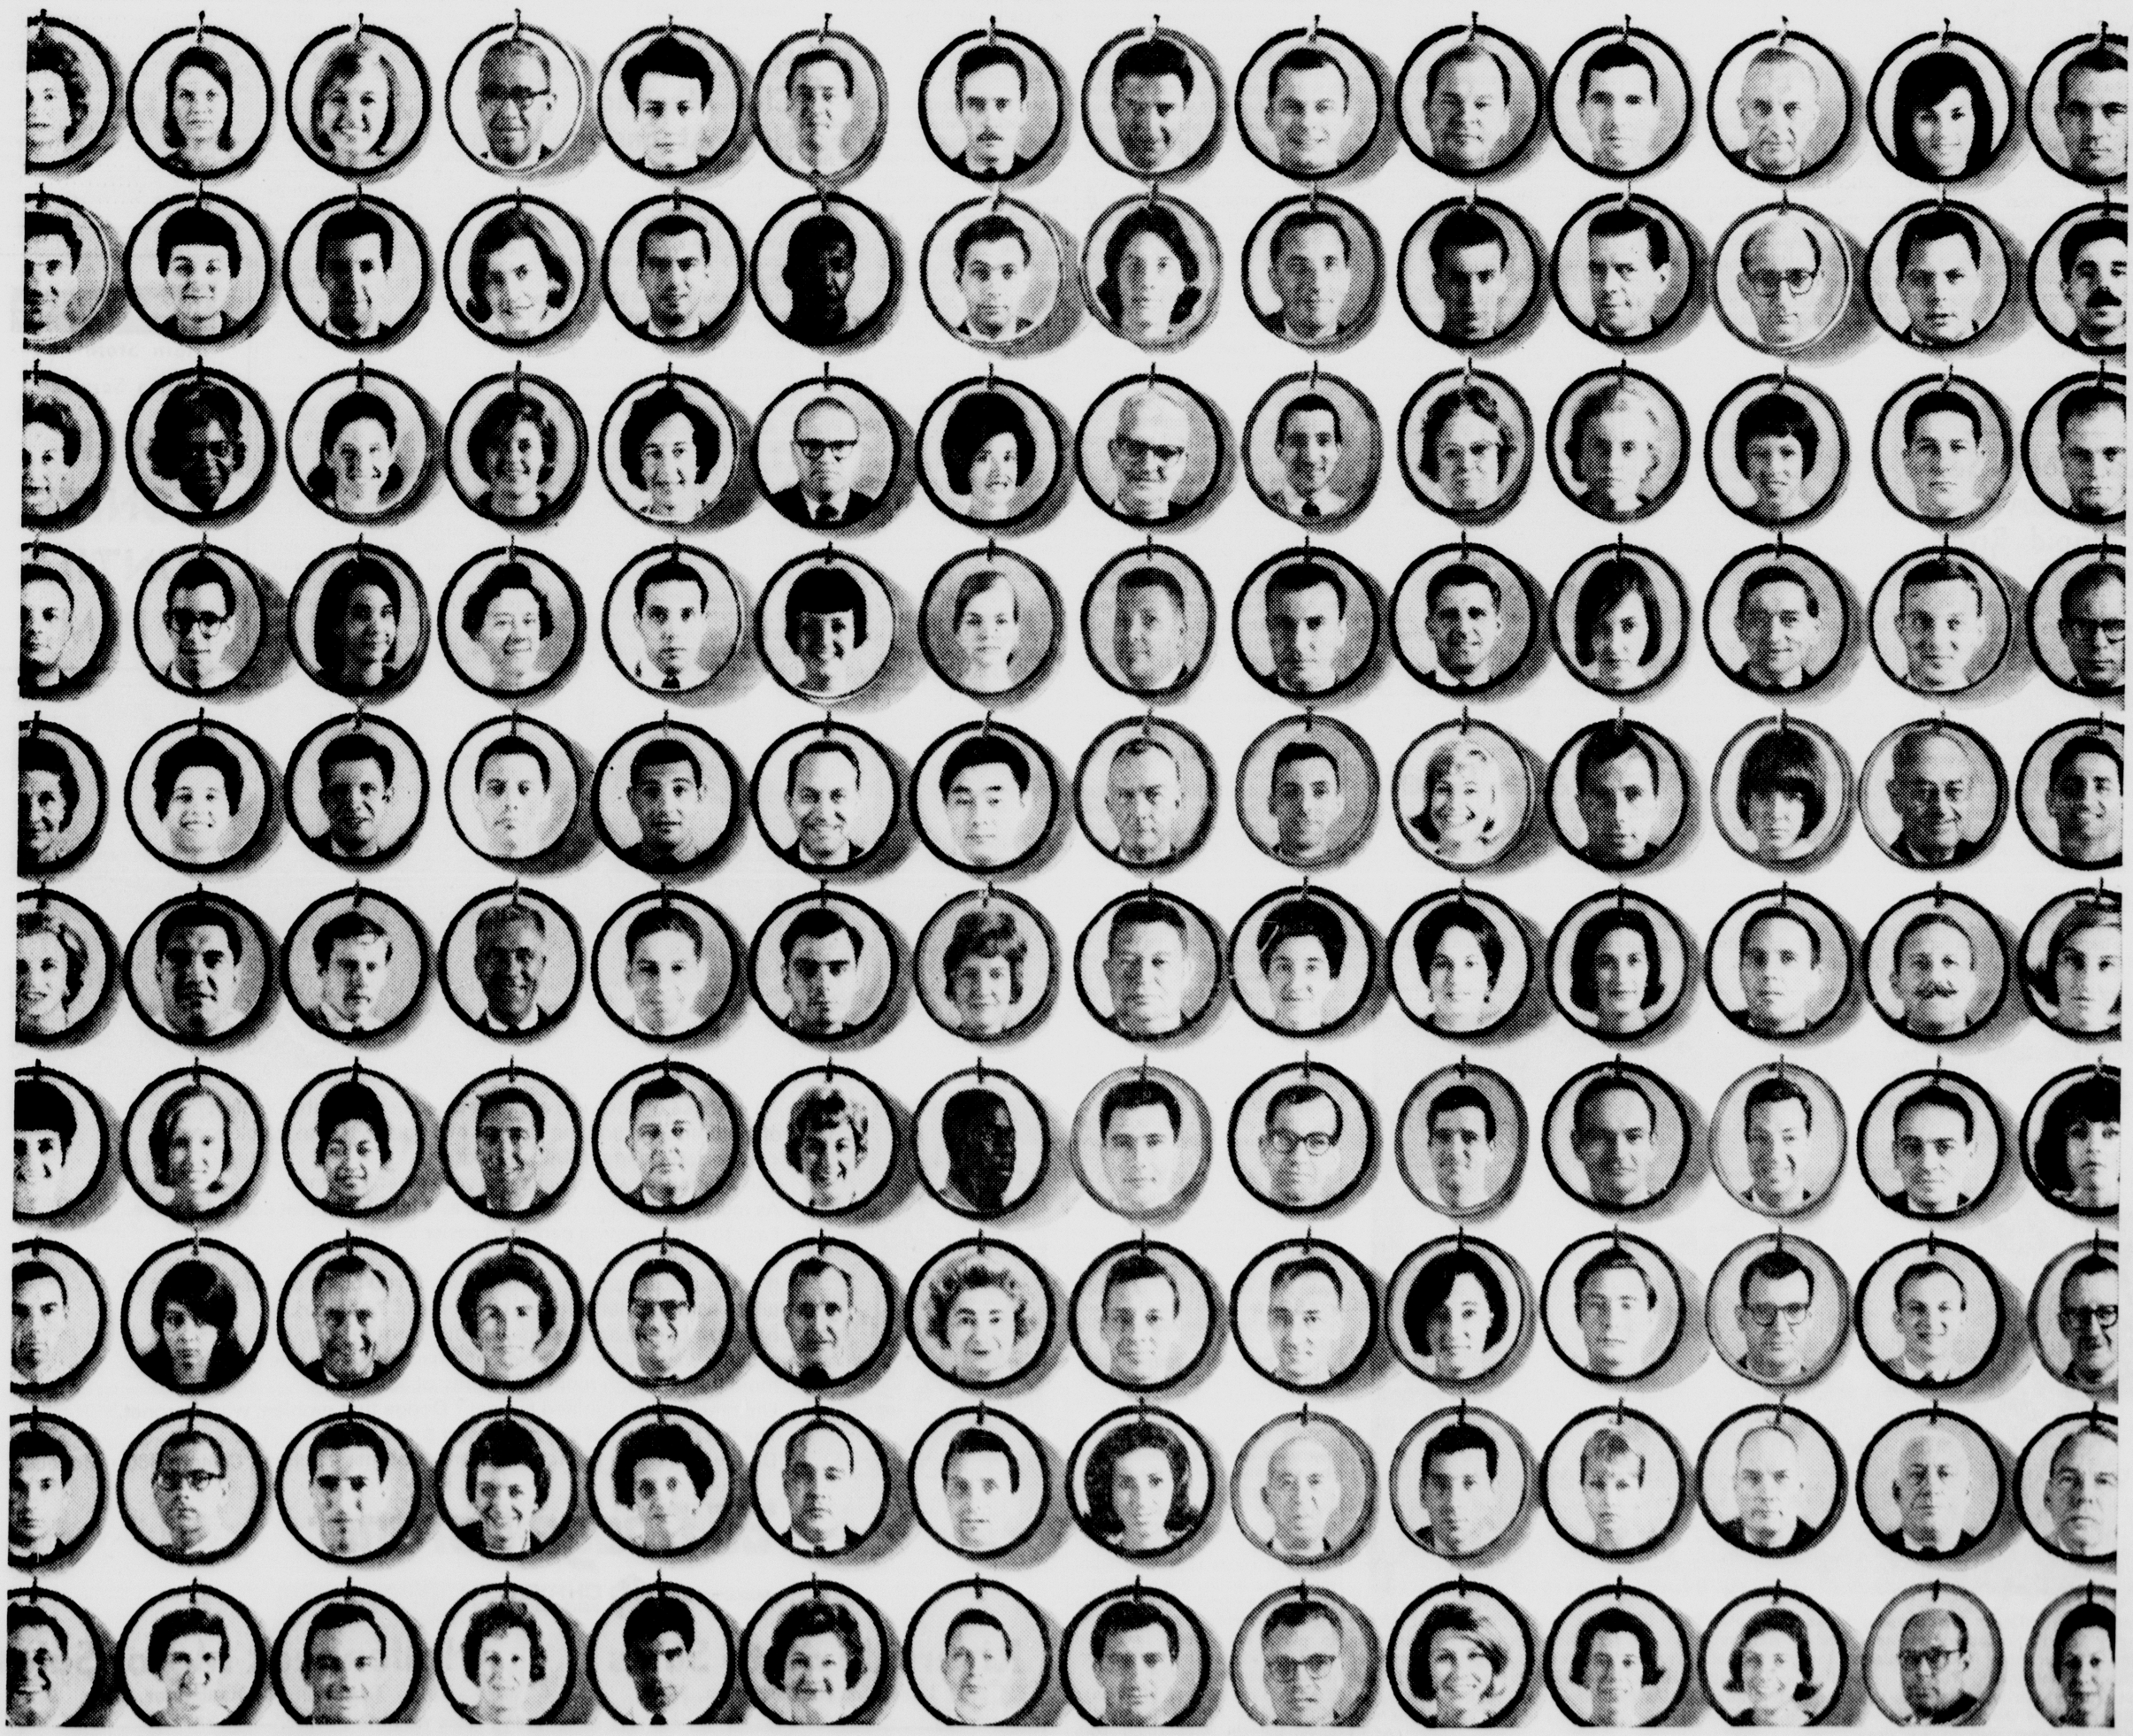

• Metropolitan invests an average of $8 million every business day in U.S. and Canadian communities—spurring new ventures such as jet aviation and modern housing—stimulating jobs for millions—and getting a good return for our policyholders at the same time.

Remember, after the three basic necessities, food, clothing and shelter, the Fourth Necessity is enough life insurance. And the company you get it from can make a difference—a very big difference in the security you provide for your family.

Why not call your local Metropolitan adviser? There's no obligation... except to those you love.

More choose Metropolitan Life

millions more than any other company

School Traffic Signals Coming

The installation of school crossing warning signs in two locations on state highways in Gladstone and Escanaba will begin about Oct. 14 by a State Highway Department crew, it is reported by Larry Suboski, Newberry, district traffic engineer.

Cost of the installations is shared 50-50 by the cities and the State Highway Department.

The locations are at the new Area High School in Escanaba and at a crossing of M-35 in Gladstone where children cross the trunkline in going to and from the Buckeye School.

Suboski said that a delay has been occasioned because of technical difficulties accompanying development of a new school speed limit flasher system. It has been expected the installation would be under way before this time.

However, since the signal of the new design is delayed, the standard school crossing warning signals will be installed now and the change to the new design made later.

The school crossing warning signal has two amber flasher lights operated by a time clock, which puts the signal into operation at the hours the children are crossing the highway.

FATHER OF ROCKETS—The U.S. Post Office Department will issue an eight-cent air mail commemorative honoring Robert H. Goddard, father of modern rocketry. At the right of the engraving of Goddard is an Atlas rocket blasting a Mercury capsule into orbit and a Cape Kennedy launch, lower.

Cancer Service Need Declines

September was the lowest month for cancer service from the Delta County Cancer Society so far this year, it was reported at a meeting of the unit at the Chamber of Commerce building in Escanaba Monday night.

Mrs. Lee Miller reported that only $65 had been spent for needed supplies; and Mrs. Robert Storbeck, service chairman, said that Delta County has at this time only six cancer patients requesting the Society's help.

Dr. Donald Fitch and Dr. N. J. Theisen, medical members of the Cancer Society, suggested that the unit's directors each could serve as "contact" people for those seeking the Society's help.

Cancer families can reach the Society through their physician, directors and any Crusader of the Delta County unit, it was pointed out.

Arthur A. Neiman, president of the Delta County Cancer Society, outlined plans for the annual fund Crusade to be held in April, 1965.

Mrs. Clint Dunathan, Escanaba, the local unit's representative to the Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society, is attending a meeting of the state board being held in Lansing.

Greyhound Dines U.P. Drivers To Cite Safe Year

Drivers of Central Greyhound Lines of the Escanaba area and their wives were guests of the lines at a luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington today for a program on safety.

Gilbert R. Loshek, superintendent of Central Greyhound, Milwaukee, presided at the program with A. M. Wittman, safety superintendent, of Milwaukee.

Escanaba is the division point of Central Greyhound, which is a division of Greyhound Lines, Inc. Central Greyhound district is west to the Rockies, north to Canada, east to Mackinac, Chicago and St. Louis and south to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Central Division in 1963 operated 248,000 miles per accident, including all accidents, even minor fender scratching. The Escanaba Division operated 479,305 miles per accident, which is an 80,000 mile increase of accident free mileage over the previous year, "and we're very proud of this exceptional safety record built by the operators of Upper Michigan," said Loshek.

Greyhound employes 12 drivers in the Upper Peninsula.

Delta Prosecutor Nicholas P. Chapekis was one of the speakers at the annual meeting of the Michigan Justices of the Peace Association at Boyne Mountain in the weekend and was impressed with the serious attitude of the Association toward its members' service to the public.

"The justices of the peace," said Chapekis "are going out of business in five years under the new Michigan Constitution, but they are seriously concerned about lower court service in the state. The new theme for the lower courts is that their judges must be lawyers."

The justices had circuit judges and supreme court justices among their speakers. Chapekis spoke on trial practices.

LANSING (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Zolton Ferency said Monday he has appointed Alberto Pulido of Detroit as assistant director of the nationalities division of the State Democratic Party. He will work with Mrs. Malvina Abonyi of Detroit.

Many Southern Voters Dislike Both Nominees

time Castro gets out of line, there won't be any of this wishy-washy stuff from the State Department. Goldwater willl say, 'Buddy, you've had it.' ""

A Griffin, Ga., service staion operator said he is for Goldwater "because of this 'niggger' business." Numerous Southerners said a vote for the GOP candidate "is the only way I have to protest against the government ramming civil rights down my throat."

Vice versa, the Rev. Cuthbert Allen, a Dominican priest who is acting president of Belmont Abbey College, Belmont, N.C., said, "I am a Johnson man because I think the present administration is on the right tarck on all the issues."

In Bridge City, La., Mrs. M. Bourgois said she "looked with disdane'" on Johnson when he first took offfice. But after the atttack on U.S. warships in the Gulf of Tonkin, she said, "I listened to him for the first time and realized how terrribly wrong I had been. Here is a truly great leader."

In Johnson's home state, Texans have mixed opinions of him.

Said a West Texas business executive, "Lyndon doesn't have a real friend in Texas. But he knows how to get things done. People may dislike him personally, but they have to admire his ability to work with people."

In Dalllas, a Goldwater fortress, a sales representative said, "When you're in that voting booth, it's going to be hard to resist the urge to keep a Texan in the driver's seat."

Too Much Socialism

"I believe Johnson's a good man, but I'm very much opposed to socialism," said Mrs. James Felker, Fort Worth accountant. "I'll vote for Goldwater. I think we have too much foreign aid and Johnson is more closely associated with socialism."

The very fact that Johnson, a Texan, drove for the Civil Rights Act has alienated many Southerners. They call him a "turncoat" and a "renegade."

"Johnson being a Southerner didn't turn out to be much of one," said George Winslow, of La Grange, Ga., a cab driver.

Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who has turned Republican, said "Lyndon's being a Southerner will play some part in the South, but it's what the man stands for that will count."

Thurmond's move may carrry Southern votes with him. In Greensboro, N. C. Roy C. Millikan, a Republican, said Thurmond "is a powerful person. What he says travels a long way." In Lawton, Okla., Mrs. John Stanfield, a Democrat, commended Thurmond for his action. "I think you should vote for the man and not the party," she said.

A number of those questioned said they were "confused" as the familiar political patterns became blurred in the South.

"It isn't the Democratic party any more," said a Tifton, Ga., contractor. "I'm voting Republican." But a Moultrie, Ga., executive said, "Well, people around here say they're going to vote Republican but when they get in the voting booth with a full stomach and money in their pockets, they'll vote Democratic just as they always have."

Women Changing

Three other factors emerged in the surveys, the potency of which is impossible to measure. They are:

1. It appears that Goldwater has lost, and may still be losing, voters who originally were for him. Said Sam Dillon, a Florida newsman, 'I'm a conservative by nature and I was for Goldwater. But he has made so many compromises and reversed himself so often I've changed my mind." A professional photographer in Amarillo, Tex., said, "I'm a conservative but there's such a thing as being to conservative."

2. Since the Civil Rights Act is such a painful subject in the South, observers believe that some voters refrain from saying they are for Johnson "for fear of being called 'nigger lovers.' "

3. An Atlanta enginer said, firmly, that Southern women are becoming more independent of their husbands' political affiliations. 'Furthermore,"h e said, "It seems to have become a kind of status symbol for a woman to say she's voting Republican this year.'

Prosperity Helps

In most localities, of course, the Civil Rights Act is the teeth-gritting topic.

Next to civil rights, it appears, comes deep concern over the size and role of the federal government. Southerners speak frequently of "regimentation," increasing controls, "the welfare state."

If civil rights is hurting Johnson in the South, the exuberant, burgeoning prosperity of the region probably is helping him. In every city, small town and farming community, the signs of affluence are present.

And Tolly Brown, of Owings Mills, Md., came up with a novel thought that could both win and lose votes for Johnson.

"Johnson obviously brought the Beatles over here so that we would forget the Bobby Baker case," Brown said.

Stroke Victim Can Be Helped

If there is a stroke victim in your family who has suffered loss of language, there are many things you can do to help him recover.

That is the cheering word from the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults (The Easter Seal Society), which points out that each year more than 400,000 Americans suffer loss of language or aphasia, one of the frequent results of stroke. Language skill and speech as well as memory usually will return quickly although sometimes it will require many months of painstaking training by a professional speech therapist or speech pathologist.

Key to full recovery is intelligent and sympathetic understanding and help by members of the family. Here are some suggestions adapted from "An Open Letter to the Family of an Adult Patient with Aphasia" written by a nationally recognized authority in the field, Miss Betty Horwitz, of New York, and published by the National Society:

Help Him Relax

Talk to the patient simply and naturally. Encourage him to respond in whatever way he can.

Do not ridicule or insist that response be accurate, or correctly pronounced.

Do not speak to the patient as if he were a child or deaf or retarded.

Do not discuss his emotional reactions and problems in his presence.

Be natural with him and help him to maintain his former status in the family group.

Include him in all family affairs; consult with him and see that he shares in family decisions as he did before.

Don't tell him to relax. By your mannerisms, patience and attitude of acceptance, create an air of relaxation for him.

Explain what has happened to him.

Regaining Speech

To encourage the regaining of speech, Miss Horwitz, who holds advanced speech certification in the American Speech and Hearing Association, has these additional hints:

Keep instructions and explanations simple.

Ask direct questions requiring a simple "yes" or "no" answer.

Do not confuse the patient with idle chatter or too many people speaking at once.

Do not answer for him if he is capable of speaking for himself.

Utilize routine activities for speaking. Meals and dressing times are good opportunities.

Encourage the use of greetings and social exchanges such as "Hello," "Thank you," and "How are you."

The patient who can write and spell should be encouraged to carry a pad and pencil so he can write what he cannot say.

Encourage gestures and talking with hands whenever and if possible.

Be prepared for bizarre, inaccurate use of language and for swearing. Accept this without amusement or anger.

Remember that a characteristic of aphasia is the inability to remember the names of people and objects. Reassure the patient that this is part of his sickness and that he is not "losing his mind."

few in Michigan still in municipal ownership. Gladstone has indicated its willingness to do business with Mich Con.

To guide the city to an econonic decision on the question, the city engaged the engineering consulting firm of Black & Veatch, Kansas City, Mo., to make a study and recommendations.

Black & Veatch told Escanaba that on a basis of study of what would happen in the next 10 years of operation under municipal ownership and under Mich Con ownership, that municipal ownership would be more favorable below a certain level of sale price and private operation (by Mich Con) would be more favorable to the community above that level.

Break Point

No conclusion on the issue can be made without a sale price offer from Mich Con to the city for its gas utility. The break point suggested by Black & Veatch was about $650,000. At this point the utility would have a worth of $36,480 more under municipal operation in 10 years, but at $700,000 private operation would provide a $13,520 advantage and at $750,000 a $63,-520 advantage.

In other words, the city's consulting engineers said that worth of the utility to the city would be determined by how much Mich Con offered to purchase it. At $500,000 tthe advantage of city ownership would be worth $186,480 in a decade.

Many women pull on a hat to hide their hairdos. Here are two coiffures suggested by Albert-Carter of the St. Moritz designed for hats. Cut and combed close to the neck, the hairdo (left) follows the jawline. Sides curve over the cheekbone. Use a rattail comb to ease the sides in place. Soft and flippant, this hairdo is just as pretty without a hat which here happens to be a mocha felt roller with wide brim. For French twist enthusiasts, the hair (right) is combed straight back without a part and lifted tautly from the nape into a sleek roll. Forehead is left bare. Hat features new flat top and flip back with grosgrain ribbon bow.

Lady Bird Quotes Robert E. Lee In Tour Of Dixie

ABOARD LADYBIRD SPECIAL (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson launched a Southern whistlestop tour today with a quotation from Robert E. Lee and urged Virginians to forget differences over civil rights and seek a unified nation.

With President Johnson at her side, the First Lady recalled to a crowd at her first stop in Alexandria, Va. — not far from Lee's Arlington home — the advice of the Confederate general to Southerners after the Civil War to "abandon all these local animosities and make your sons Americans."

To this, Mrs. Johnson added her own advice, urging fellow Southerners to seek "the ties that bind us together, not settle for the tensions that tend to divide us."

The President climbed aboard the Ladybird Special for the start of his wife's 1,682-mile foray into the South and rode with her to the first stop just across the Potomac River.

RAINING BULLETS

BRECKSVILLE, Ohio —(AP) —Man - made raindrops that strike with the muzzle velocity of a .45-caliber pistol bullet are created by scientists here to test special rubber compounds for airplane deicers and radome covers.

Inside a 35-foot tower at The B. F. Goodrich Company Research Center, a sprinkler showers a whirling helicopter blade at a 500-mile-an-hour rate. At this speed, plane and rain collide with shattering force, strong enough to pit aluminum and stainless steel and scar plastic canopies.

Rotation of the blade duplicates rain-erosion hazards met in actual flight, and samples of materials are attached to the blade to test their resistance to the punishment of the rain. Then they are examined to determine erosion damage.

Size of the drops and severity of the man-made showers are controlled by spray nozzles. Motor and blade are installed below ground as a safety measure and tests are run by remote control.

Rotary Hosts District Governor

Manistique Rotarians Monday hosted their district governor, Richard Foster Bonson, grocer from Eagle River, Wis., and responded with near 100 per cent attendance.

Bonson praised the leadership of Michael Anuta of Menominee, retiring district governor, citing in particular his work in international understanding.

Recently 14 students and two Rotarians from Venezuela visited Menominee, testifying to the ability of Mr. Anuta in encouraging goodwill and understanding.

Bonson urged Rotarians to be honest with themselves and pointed out the tremendous needs in the world, and the opportunities for men of high ideals to serve their community, nation and the world. The speaker emphasized success in international relations will come after members gain experience overcoming problems of club and community.

Bonson cited the Bible and the story of creation noting the earth is the Lord's and man was given dominance over it with the charge to subdue it and serve their fellowmen with love. He also quoted from Galatians on liberty and urged members to share the abundance and the knowledge men have gained in this country.

The founders of this nation and of Rotary were dedicated to high ideals of service and a belief in God.

"When we have a problem today, we run around looking for the fellow who can help us instead of bending our knee to ask God's guidance and help in prayer. We have never had so much shoddiness and cheapness — cutting of corners, in business and our leaders are acting like alleycats.

"It doesn't take much courage to call a crook a crook or a crooked politician crooked. But it takes more to respect the good of another man even if he is of a different political party, faith or color," he observed.

"There are 11,000 other Rotary clubs in the world, and their members aren't all of the same color or belief as we are, but they have high ideals too," he cited.

The club gave standing ovation at the conclusion. Matt Stram, Rotary president, met with Bonson in the morning and introduced him to the noon meeting for the inspiriational address.

Former Escanaba Pro:

McNicoll Lauded As Vital Force In Golf Circles

(Editor's Note: The following story was written by Lee Remmel who covers golf news for the Green Bay Press Gazette.)

Regardless of his reasons for leaving Shorewood Country Club—and those reasons, we feel, are a matter between him and the club's golf committee—there can be no doubt that Jim McNicoll's departure removes a vital force from the local golf scene.

The stocky Scot, who resigned as pro last Wednesday in protest of new operating rules established by the committee, has wrought or instigated a host of major programs—and improved and implemented others—which have added spice to not only the Shorewood schedule but to that of the parent Northeastern Wisconsin Golf Assn. and the NEWPGA as well.

At the bayshore layout, for example, McNicoll has kept things humming by inaugurating the President's and Vice President's Cup tournaments in 1959, the father-son and mother - daughter tournament in 1960 and the Friday night mixer, a highly successful event. All four have become popular fixtures.

A born organizer and persuasive promoter, he also beefed up the men's day schedule, installed a starting time (tee reservation) system and revamped the men's club tournament, transforming it from a haphazard affair into a Labor Day weekend tradition.

Additionally, the dynamic Duluth, Minn., native has accelerated both the Shorewood and NEWPGA junior programs bolstering the latter with a season-long series of handicap best ball events.

As tournament chairman the last five years, he has been instrumental in the staging and success of all NEWPGA tournaments, for which he acted as an unofficial aide-de-camp to Appleton's Dan Steinber, veteran NEWPGA secretary.

His influence in association affairs was demonstrated only last week when the NEW Open, a two-day event this year, was returned to its former three-day schedule, largely at McNicoll's urging.

Jim who also served as co-chairman of the Cherryland Open 1961-62-63 and played a key role in its development, has seen the other side of the coin, too, he admits.

"My biggest disappointment was not being able to get a city match play tournament started," he says. "I couldn't get it off the ground."

Jim, who will conclude a seven-year Shorewood tenure Oct. 31, has no definite plans at this point "but I'd like to remain in the area."

Kenny Lane Suffers KO

MARACAIBO, Venezuela (AP) — Carlos Hernandez of Venezuela knocked out Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., Monday night in the second round of their lightweight fight in the Olympic Stadium before a crowd of 16,000.

Hernandez knocked Lane down twice in the first round.

Hernandez reached with several jabs of his left hand to the head of Lane and followed this attack with a solid right to the chin sending the American southpaw to the canvas for the count of six in the first round. Before this round was over the Venezuelan knocked Lane down again for the count of eight.

Hernandez finished his work during the second round, employing a continuous attack with both hands. A hard right sent Lane to the canvas again at 1:02 and the fight was over.

Hernandez weighed 137 and Lane 139. The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds.

Palmer Leads Money Winners

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer is still more than $3,000 ahead of Jack Nicklaus among professional golf's leading money winners, with Bill Casper Jr. a distant third.

There were no changes in the standings of the first 10 after last week's Fresno Open, which left Palmer on top with $110,743 and Nicklaus a close second with $107,717.

Casper has won $79,019 to date this year, followed closely by Bob Nichols with $73,537 and Tony Lema with $72,555.

Cadillac maintained its second place behind Hillsdale in class B, but moved just a point away on the basis of its 45-6 trouncing of Lansing Waverly last week.

The AP's statewide panel of sports writers and sportscasters also promoted Kingsford (5-0) to third place. Lowell and Manistique round out the top five.

The C-D race saw Akron-Fairgrove move up a couple of places to take the No. 2 position.

New Haven, Portland and Galesburg-Augusta, the latter improving its standing by three places, completed the top five.

Besides Traverse City, five other new schools were named to the top ten in their respectivec lasses.

Grosse Pointe, out last week, moved back in among the best in Class A by taking over ninth and Homer replaced Clinton in C-D.

There were three newcomers in Class B as Buchanan came in sixth, Albion eighth and Detroit St. Ambrose tenth. Mount Morris, Escanaba Holy Name and Tecumseh were the teams that were replaced.

Mauch Given Raise In Pay

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies says he and owner Bob Carpenter think Manager Gene Mauch has done a terrific job, despite the team's National League tailspin that cost them the pennant.

Quinn made the comment Monday after giving Mauch a new, two-year contract with a reported increase in salary.

The Phillies finished in a tie for second place with Cincinnati after blowing a 6½-game lead in the last two weeks, during which they dropped 10 games in a row.

Mauch, whose present contract had another year to run, signed the new pact in Quinn's office before leaving for the World Series in St. Louis.

The 38-year-old Mauch, who first signed to manage the Phillies in 1960, reportedly got a substantial increase over the reported $40,000 he received this year.

"Both Bob (Carpenter) and myself think Gene's done a terrific job and we wanted him to know we felt that way," Quinn explained.

The Phillies have climbed steadily since finishing eighth during Mauch's first two years as manager. In 1963, the team finished fourth and this season they had 92 victories, a club record.

Michigan Is Healthy Team

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan held light drills, stressing the ground game, Monday as the Wolverines began work for their encounter with Michigan State Saturday.

The squad escaped serious injury in last Saturday's 21-0 victory over Navy, Coach Bump Elliott said.

Only defensive specialist John Rowser, who was injured in practice two weeks ago, is a doubtful starter against MSU, Elliott noted.

Rowser reinjured his leg slightly last Friday and did not see service against Navy.

Linebacker Barry Dehlin, halfbacks Carl Ward and Jim Detwiler and end Steve Smith, who suffered cuts or slight muscle pulls last Saturday, were at practice Monday.

Reviewing movies of MSU's two previouse games, Elliott pointed out that the Spartans have a strong defensive unit similar to the one that led the Big Ten defensively last year.

He said MSU's 17-7 victory over the second-ranked Southern California was no fluke; the Spartans dominated the game all the way.

Elliott also announced that he was tightening security precautions against potential MSU "spies."

Practice will be closed beginning Tuesday and may even be barred to press pass holders.

Sugar Ramos To Quit Ring

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Featherweight world champion Ultiminio (Sugar) Ramos announced Monday night he will not fight any more.

Speaking at a TV program with sports' commentator Paco Malgesto, Ramos said he has decided to retire "and try to live in peace and quiet for a change."

The former champion, who lost his title last month to Mexico's Vicente Saldivar, told Malgesto he has not yet made any definite plans, but that one thing was sure: he will not climb into a ring again.

Winners Listed In Junior Golf

The winners of the Junior Golf Tournament held this past Saturday at the Highland Golf Club were announced today by tourney manager, Jerry Harris.

They include: Boys, 10 and under, Mickey Douglas; girls 10 and under, Debbie Riegal; boys 11-13, Mike Beck; girls 11-13, Beth Knauf; 14 to 18, boys, Bruce Beck.

Esky Loses Carl Olson

The injury jinx, which struck Holy Name in the game at Alpena Saturday night, also chopped a valuable player from the Escanaba lineup following the Marquette game last weekend.

Coach Jerry Cvengros announced Monday that senior end Carl Olson suffered a broken arm in the Marquette contest. Olson, a 5 foot 11 inch, 165 pound letterman, was a valuable pass catcher, outstanding blocker, safety on defense and extra point kicker for the Eskymos.

Olson suffered his injury throwing a devastating block that helped spring halfback Dave Boileau on a 71 yard touchdown run against Marquette.

Cvengros indicated that Mark Miller, 6 foot, 180 pound senior, will replace Olson at the flanker position.

The Eskymos have an opportunity to move into sole possession of first place in the Great Lakes Conference race Saturday when they host the Soo Blue Devils in their annual Homecoming game. Manistique, tied for first with Escanaba, is idle this weekend.

Spartans Try New Defense

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State again will rely on defense against Michigan Saturday because "we can't hope to match them touchdown for touchdown," says football coach Duffy Daugherty.

In upsetting Southern California 17-7 last Saturday, the Spartans used a five-man defensive backfield.

But they willl have to devise something new for next Saturday's battle to decide football supremacy in the state, Daugherty said.

He said the key to stopping Michigan, which beat Navy 21-0 last Saturday, is stopping quarterback Bob Timberlake.

Michigan has won both its games — both against service academies. Air Force was its opening day victim. Michigan State lost its opener to North Carolina and is 1-1.

Saturday's game will mark the beginning of Big Ten Conference action for both teams

"In view of our last two games, we'll have to depend on strong defense and a strong kicking game for success this year," Daugherty said.

Hitting was to resume in practice today. Monday's drill was a light session without pads, devoted mainly to strategy.

J. D. Smith Out For Year

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fullback J. D. Smith, the San Francisco 49ers' top ground gainer for the past five seasons, will be out for the year.

The club made the announcement Monday, two weeks after Smith was hurt in the 49ers' 28-24 victory over Philadelphia. A spokesman said the star fullback will be operated on this week for cartilage damage to his left knee.

Sadecki Gets Mound Nod In World Series Opener

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Ray Sadecki, a 23-year-old lefty with his first big winning year, will tote a tremendous burden Wednesday as the opening pitcher for the underdog St. Louis Cardinals against Whitey Ford, the New York Yankees' cagey veteran.

Ford's experience under fire is one reason why the Yanks are 17-10 favorites to take it all and 6-5 in the opener. It will be Whitey's 22nd Series start.

The Series schedule, which calls for a day off for travel after the second and fifth games, permits the first-game pitchers to make three starts if it goes the seven-game limit.

Because Johnny Keane, Cardinal manager, had to use Bob Gibson in relief in Sunday's final game to clinch the National League pennant, he is forced to start Sadecki, a 20-game winner who was knocked out of the box Saturday by the New York Mets.

It figures to be the Yanks' Big Three of Ford, Mel Stottlemyre and Jim Bouton against the Cardinals' trio of Sadecki, Gibson and Curt Simmons. Nobody else is likely to start.

Al Downing, normally a regular, probably will be in the Yankee bullpen which will be hurting without Pedro Ramos, the stopper of the last month of the season.

Ramos is not eligible for the Series because he was acquired from Cleveland too late to be placed on the list which closes Sept. 1. The absence of the handsome Cuban may be fatal to Manager Yogi Berra, who learned to lean more and more on Ramos in the stretch drive to his first pennant.

"It all depends on how things are going," said Berra in New York Monday after he sent the Yanks through a light drill at Yankee Stadium.

Tony Kubek, regular Yankee shortstop, and Julian Javier, the Cards' second baseman, were on the doubtful list because of injuries.

Kubek, in fact, very likely will miss the entire Series because of a jammed right wrist that has kept him out of action for two weeks.

Javier suffered a badly bruised left hip Saturday in a collision with the Mets' Bob Taylor. The Cards were optimistic about his playing but had Dal Maxvill ready. Maxvill, normally a weak hitter, came through with flying colors in the weekend games.

Phil Linz, the Yanks' harmonica-playing rascal, undoubtedly will start at shortstop. Linz has been getting key hits in the Yanks' late drive.

Speed will be on the side of the Cards with Lou Brock, their base-stealing whiz, Curt Flood and Javier the best of the lot. They will put pressure on Elston Howard, the Yanks' fine catcher, just as the dashing Dodgers of Los Angeles did last year in a four-straight sweep.

Both clubs scheduled tune-ups at Busch Stadium today with the Yanks, who were flying in, due to follow the Cardinals. Busch Stadium, with its pavilion in right field only 310 feet from the plate, provides a fine target for left-handed sluggers like Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle and Joe Pepitone of the Yanks and Bill White and Brock of the Cards.

It will be the fifth Series meeting of the Yanks and Cards, who split the first four.

Ralph Houk, whom Berra succeeded this year, was the first rookie manager to win a pennant. The Yanks won the pennant in 1961, his first year at the helm and also won under him in 1962 and 1963.

The last time the Cards won the pennant was in 1946. Eddie Dyer was a rookie manager that season and the Redbirds went on to beat the Boston Red Sox in the Series.

Texas Retains First Place In College Ratings

By The Associated Press

Hurricane Hilda didn't get north to the state of Michigan. No matter. The Michigan State Spartans and the Michigan Wolverines provided their own power on the gridiron and blew Southern California and Navy right out of the Top Ten in college football.

The Texas Longhorns retained today their No. 1 spot in this week's voting by The Associated Press panel of sports writers and broadcasters with a come-from-behind 17-6 triumph over Army.

But Michigan State upset Southern California 17-7 and Michigan walloped Navy 21-0 to give the Top Ten a thorough shaking up. As a result Southern California, No. 2, and Navy, No. 6, flopped right out of the rankings.

The new Top Ten is No. 1, Texas; No. 2, Illinois; No. 3, Alabama; No. 4, Ohio State; No. 5, Kentucky; No. 6, Notre Dame; No. 7, Michigan; No. 8, Nebraska; No. 9, a tie between Michigan State and Arkansas.

Illinois took over the No. 2 spot with a 17-6 triumph over Northwestern. Alabama moved up to No. 3 by blanking Vanderbilt 24-0 and Ohio State jumped a notch to No. 4 by slamming Indiana 17-9.

Kentucky, perhaps the surprise team of the season to date, jumped from nowhere to the No. 5 spot with an 20-0 upset over Auburn, a defeat that pushed the Tigers out of the Top Ten. It was the third straight for Kentucky's unbeaten Wildcats. They previously downed Detroit 13-6 and Mississippi 27-21.

In this week's games involving the Top Ten, it's Texas vs. Oklahoma; Illinois vs. Ohio State; Alabama vs. North Carolina State; Kentucky vs. Florida State; Notre Dame vs. Air Force; Michigan vs. Michigan State; Nebraska vs. South Carolina and Arkansas vs. Baylor.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8etc. basis:

1. Texas (32)	430
2. Illinois (6)	390
3. Alabama (3)	366
4. Ohio State	263
5. Kentucky (5)	255
6. Notre Dame	244
7. Michigan (1)	243
8. Nebraska	8
9. tie, Michigan State	36
9. tie, Arkansas	36

Unbeaten Tigers Tops In Nation

By The Associated Press

The Wittenberg Tigers, apparently as strong on the gridiron as they usually are on the basketball floor, again are No. 1 this week in the Associated Press small - college football poll.

The unbeaten Tigers won their third straight by crushing Heidelberg 49-0 aturday and retained their top perch in the voting by the AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

San Diego State, Lamar Tech and Prairie View each are undefeated in three games, too, but they didn't amass as many points and trail Wittenberg as the No. 2, 3 and 4 teams in that order.

Olympic Beauties Aren't Miss Universe Candidates

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP) — There is one standard for feminine beauty at the Miss Universe contest, and an entirely different one at the Olympic Games.

We have to use a different yardstick — we get a different class of contestant over here.

In fact, to be brutally frank, after looking over the crop gathering for the Olympics which open Saturday, it must be reported that there are very few lady athletes whose faces will stop traffic.

Clocks, yes.

Oh, there are the exceptions. Some of the swimming girls fill their suits quite neatly.

The lady gymnasts have been known to set hearts tumbling.

But when it comes to lady shot putters and volley ball players, well, there are some here that even their mothers would admit are not ravishing.

They also run heavily to shoulders.

The best estimate on a healthy miss from one unidentified Eastern European state produced these vital statistics: 58-40-40.

The first figure is for the shoulders, and the other two were selected at random lower down.

And those stainless steel teeth favored by Iron Curtain dentists do not exactly enhance the over-all aspect.

In fact, where the sun is right, a Bulgarian volley ball player can flash secret messages with her teeth and block the view of the entire backcourt at the same time.

Now, this lowdown on pulchritude in the sweat socks set has long been hidden in a secret code.

Sports writers, gentlemen all, sort around in their vocabularies and come up with descriptive words for lady athletes that do not completely cover the case.

Here are some familiar examples, and their real meanings:

Attractive — Well, she must be a girl because the Russians say she is, and we can't even get an agreement to inspect their nuclear bomb sites.

Pretty — Nobody has ever actually stepped on her face with a spiked shoe.

Lovely — She bathes after every race.

Gorgeous — She parked her truck outside.

Glamorous — She has had at least one permanent since spring.

Vivacious — She speaks English.

MASSAVE ATTACK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — There is virtually NO way for adult Americans to acquire basic fluency in any but the three or four most common languages like French, German and Spanish, says an Ohio State University language specialist.

What is needed, says Prof. Paul Pimsleur, is "a prompt and massive attack on the language training problem to establish a national library where any American could obtain material for home study of any language."

Business Year Has Sour Notes

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Only a few sour notes mar the performance as the third quarter of the business year nears its finale.

The summer was better than usual on many counts. But even the most optimistic forecaster has to take note of some disturbing trends in the final weeks:

—The auto industry had better than usual sales — but also a labor pact that some fear might spread inflationary fires to other sectors of the economy. And the final days of the quarter were marred by walkouts at General Motors plants and a contract impasse.

Building Slumps

—Housing starts in August fell 5 per cent below a year ago, while contracts for future residential building trailed the 1963 August by 11 per cent. For all types of construction, contracts were running 7 per cent behind a year ago.

—Business failures rose 7 per cent in August from July, an unseasonal trend.

—Machine tool orders, often a barometer, were the lowest since last November, off 15 per cent from July. But makers say the August trend was largely seasonal.

—New orders for durable goods dropped 9 per cent last month from their July record high.

—And there are 3,750 fewer retail stores today than a year ago, although that still leaves 1,853,530 in which Americans can shop.

But the good performance — rising personal incomes and consumer spending, record industrial output, booming steel production and orders, adequate supply of loanable funds — outweighs the others in the view of most businessmen.

Rise Predicted

On this basis a majority of the Philadelphia meeting of the National Association of Business Economists agreed in a poll that the total national output of goods and services should average $652 billion in 1965, a gain of 4 per cent over the record pace this Gross National Product is setting this year.

And they forecast a 3 per cent rise in industrial production, and a 5 per cent increase in consumer spending.

But the economists do some hedging on these bets. They think the rate of advance in the GNP will be slower in late 1965 than in the early months. They see stability in industrial output after the middle of 1965. And they feel that the higher spending of consumers next year will be in face of a 1 to 2 per cent climb in consumer prices.

Backing up the economists are a generally bullish, if nervous stock market and the increasing number of corporations announcing expansion plans.

Jobs Decline In September

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment and unemployment both showed expected, seasonal declines in September as approximately 1.7 million teenagers left jobs to return to school.

The unemployment rate for the month — 5.2 per cent — was slightly higher than August's 5.1 per cent but below the 5.5 per cent registered last September.

Employment stood at 70.8 million, compared with 72.1 in August and 69.5 million last September.

Unemployment was 3.3 million, down 350,000 from August, and down 200,000 from last September. It was the lowest September unemployment total since 1959.

The job figures, given at the Labor Department's regular monthly briefing Thursday, are the last to be issued before the Nov. 3 presidential election. The next figures are due Nov. 5.

CHANGE IN MILITARY

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Military officers are not fully meeting the challenge of change in their profession. the commandant of the Air Force Institute of Technology says.

Maj. Gen. Cecil E. Combs, writing in "Air University Review," says it is becoming harder to draw the line between jobs which require predominantly military organizations, those which might be done by civilian organizations under military supervision and those which can be performed exclusively by civilian enterprise.

GERALD PEPIN Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pepin, 1226 N. 19th St., has been promoted to S/Sgt. from A/1c with the Air Force support unit at Ankara, Turkey. Pepin, an accounting and finance specialist, joined the Air Force in 1955 and has served at Lackland, Little Rock, Ark., K. I. Sawyer and Selfridge air bases. His wife, the former Arlene Steede of Escanaba, and son, Gerald III, are with him at Ankara.

Candidates Lose Their Titles On Michigan Ballot

LANSING (AP) — State Elections director Robert Montgomery has ordered removal of professional titles from before five names on proof ballots submitted by county clerks.

The Nov. 3 candidates, alll backed by the Freedom Now Party, were:

Titles are permitted only to prevent confusion over a similarity of names, he said.

Afghanistan is building a network of modern roads to link Kabul with the Khyber Pass and other landmarks of "Kipling country."

Christian Unity Goal Of Church

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council, in a historic vote Monday, overwhelmingly agreed that the Roman Catholic Church was not blameless in the discords that have split the Christian world.

The council — a gathering of Roman Catholic prelates from around the world — also voted approval of an exhortation for all Catholics to work for Christian unity.

Both votes came as balloting started in the assembly in St. Peter's on a crucial schema on Christian unity, "De Decumenismo"—on ecumenism.

Altogether four votes were taken on various parts of the first of three chapters in the schema.

In the voting, the prelates:

—Accepted a statement that restoration of Christian unity was a main aim of the council, 2,094-16.

—Affirmed that Christ had desired unity of all men, 2,081-30.

—Deplored differences that have caused separations in Christianity, and declared that such separations occurred "sometimes not without fault on both sides," 2,051-57.

—Approved an appeal to Catholics to work for Christian unity advising them to avoid mistruths about other Christians and to follow lives that would bring credit to the Catholic Church in the eyes of non-Catholics, 2,056-50.

Council spokesmen, briefing newsmen on the activities in the closed council session in St. Peter's, said the voting today, in effect, also approved a historic new Roman Catholic way to refer to Protestants. The document uses the term churches, and not communities or sects, as in the past.

The spokesman explained that there was no direct vote on this wording, but that the approved articles were phrased in this manner.

Hundreds Watch Stabbing Of Man In Times Square

NEW YORK (AP) — As hundreds watched—but offered no help—a man in the Times Square area was stabbed repeatedly Sunday afternoon by an assailant who had tried to force his attentions on the victim's wife.

Joseph Zaia, 28, and his wife, Sandra, 26, were strolling along Broadway near 47th Street when a Negro, over six feet tall and in his 30s, put his arm around Mrs. Zaia and whispered in her ear, police said.

Zaia tried to push the intruder away. The assailant drew a knife and stabbed Zaia at least five times in the neck, chest and abdomen. Then he fled through the crowd.

Zaia was reported in fair condition at St. Clare's Hospital.

Sudbury Area Lunar Mare

A scientist of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, U. S. Department of Commerce, said today he has located on the earth for the first time what is apparently the equivalent of a lunar mare, the sea-like depression found on the moon.

It was in such a mare that an American Ranger rocket recently impacted the moon after photographing the surface.

Culminating 10 years of research and investigation, Dr. Robert S. Dietz, a marine geologist and oceanographer, said a 37-by-17 mile depression in the earth's surface near Sudbury, Ontario, was created in the same manner as the lunar maria, by the impact of an asteroid or large meteorite and a subsequent lava flow.

The impact, he added, occurred about 1.7 billion years ago and resulted in what was probably the greatest explosion in the earth's existence, producing energy comparable to the explosion of seven million megatons of TNT. In contrast, he said, the largest hydrogen bombs exploded with energy of less than 100 megatons.

The new theory as to the origin of the Sudbury Basin, site of a fabulously-rich Canadian nickel supply valued at a half billion dollars annually, was advanced by Dietz after a decade of research which included an investigation of circular earth depressions on three continents. These included the Lonar Crater in India, the Ashanti Crater in Ghana, the Vredefort Ring Structure in South Africa, the Crooked Creek Structure in Missouri and the Wells Creek Basin in Tennessee.

The Sudbury Basin, said Dietz, is apparently an astrobleme, a surface scar caused by the impast of a heavenly body. So apparently are the others. But the Sudbury Basin has one distinguishing feature which the others do not nave. It contains evidence of a lava flow caused by the impact of a meteorite or asteroid.

Therefore, concluded Dietz, the other structures are probably comparable to craters on the moon, formed also by the impact of meteorites or asteroids, but without sufficient mass and force to create lava following impact.

On the basis of his studies, Dietz said the Sudbury Basin was probably formed as follows: an asteroid or meteorite struck the earth, creating a gigantic crater more than two miles deep and about 30 miles across. The impact was so forceful it melted the rock below, creating lava. This lava welled up into the crater and congealed into a saucer-shaped body known as a lopolith. The crater then filled with water and subsequently sediment covered the lopolith. Eventually the movement of the earth changed the lava-filled crater into its existing oval shape and erosion brought about its present form.

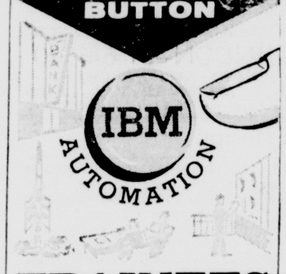

The accepted theory among most selenologists (astronomers who specialize in a study of the moon) is that the lunar maria are lava-filled craters, whose major characteristic is their flat, relatively smooth, floors. Dietz believes the Sudbury Basin, at the time of its formation, was directly analogous to a lunar mare.
